Statement of intent

M J Hunt & Son is committed to providing a safe and healthy working environment for everyone who works on or visits Upper Assendon Farm, including family, employees, contractors and visitors. This policy is reviewed annually or after any significant incident or change in operations.

Responsibilities

- James Hunt (Owner) — overall and final responsibility for health and safety on the farm.
- Harry Costar (Farm Manager) — day-to-day supervision of safe working practices for arable and beef operations, including machinery, livestock handling and chemical use.
- All workers and contractors — responsible for following safe working procedures, using PPE provided, and reporting hazards, near-misses and incidents to James Hunt or Harry Costar without delay.

Risk assessments

Written risk assessments are held for key farm activities including livestock handling, machinery operation, working at height, lone working, chemical (PPP) storage and use, and slurry/manure handling.

[Confirm where risk assessment documents are filed/stored — office folder or Hub upload — before the inspection.]

Personal protective equipment (PPE)

Appropriate PPE (including gloves, eye protection, hearing protection, respiratory protection for spraying, and safety footwear) is provided and its use is required for the relevant task. PPE is checked and replaced when worn or damaged.

First aid

A first aid box is kept at [confirm location — farm office/workshop]. The appointed first-aider is James Hunt.

[James Hunt's first aid certificate expired February 2026 — a refresher course should be booked and this section updated with the new certificate date before the inspection.]

Emergency procedures

Emergency procedures for fire, power failure, flooding and other incidents are set out in the farm's separate Emergency Contingency Plan, which is kept alongside this policy and is known to all workers.

Training

Training records for all staff are maintained in the Farm Hub, covering induction, machinery, chemical handling and livestock husbandry as relevant to each person's role.

Communication

This policy is displayed in the farm office/workshop and discussed with all new starters as part of induction. Language and learning style are taken into account to ensure all workers understand the policy.
